DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 5/21/08 has been entered.

Claims 8-10 are pending and under consideration by the Examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

2a. Claims 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as unpatentable over Lubbesmeyer et al (1988) in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,639,617 ('617 patent) and DRG Instruments GmbH.

This rejection is maintained for reasons of record set forth at pages 2-4 of the previous Office action (11/21/2007), and the advisory action (5/1/08).

Lubbesmeyer et al teach detection of sepsis in sheep by an immunoassay of plasma in the sheep in which ANF is detected (see abstract; Figure 1, page R568). The concentration of ANF was 13-fold higher within 2 hours after endotoxin administration (abstract, page R568, column 2, second para).

US Patent No. '617 teaches a method for the detection of sepsis by obtaining serum from the individual and using an antibody selective to pro-calcitonin to determine the level of pro-calcitonin relative to healthy individuals (see abstract; column 3, lines 27-60; column 6, Example 1, lines 41-65; column 8, lines 30-41).

DRG Instruments GmbH (see Applicants specification, page 18, lines 27-30; page 19, lines 1-9) teaches a kit for determining the level of pro-ANF and other pro-hormones.

Therefore, it would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the method of Lubbesmeyer in view of the '617 patent by using antibodies to pro-ANF as described by DRG Instruments GmbH because the '617 patent teaches that antibodies to the pro-hormone are selective and when used in determining the levels of pro-hormone increase are a clear and valuable way for detection of sepsis. Furthermore, it would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the method of Lubbesmeyer in view of the '617 patent by using in the claimed method, antibodies to pro-ANF as well as antibodies to procalcitonin for the detection of sepsis, because the '617 patent teaches that determining the level of procalcitonin is indicative of the detection of sepsis (for diagnosis and assessing the progression of sepsis).

Since Applicants have failed to submit arguments to demonstrate an error in the rejection by the Examiner or amend claims 8-10 in response to the action mailed 5/1/08, this rejection is maintained for reasons of record.

Conclusion

No claim is allowed.

Claims 8-10 are rejected.

All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the parent application prior to the filing of this request for continued examination (RCE) under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing under 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
